

Lehrveranstaltungen mit internationalem Bezug auf Englisch

Campus München – WiSe 2020/21

Als Teil der Internationalisierungsstrategie Internationalisierung@home werden an der KSH München im Studiengang BA Soziale Arbeit Veranstaltungen (Regel- und Blockveranstaltungen) zu internationalen Themen auf Englisch angeboten. Die Themen sind Soziale Arbeit als Menschenrechtsprofession, Migration und Flucht, Geschlechterverhältnisse, Diversity, Rassismus und Privilegien, Gesundheit, Interkulturelle Kommunikation und vieles mehr. Dadurch könnt Ihr Euch mit internationalen Themen und Englisch auseinandersetzen, ohne z.B. an einer Semestermobilität teilzunehmen. Die Veranstaltungen dienen natürlich auch der besseren Vorbereitung auf ein Theorie- oder Praxissemester im Ausland. An allen Veranstaltungen nehmen Studierende unserer ausländischen Partnerhochschulen (Erasmus incoming) teil, die ein Semester auf Englisch an der KSH studieren. Dies ermöglicht Euch, Kommiliton*innen z.B. aus Spanien, Italien, Slowenien, Ungarn, der Slowakei und der Tschechischen Republik zu begegnen und gemeinsam zu lernen.

Alle englischsprachigen Veranstaltungen finden immer im WiSe statt und sind in verschiedenen Modulen angesiedelt. So könnt Ihr ab dem 1. Semester von diesem Angebot profitieren. Insgesamt gibt es eine Veranstaltung in Modul 4.1, zwei in 4.2, zwei in 3.9, fünf in 1.3C und zwei in 5.3C.

Traut Euch, diese Veranstaltungen zu belegen, auch wenn sie auf Englisch durchgeführt werden. Die Lehrenden wissen, dass Ihr keine „native speaker“ seid und nehmen darauf Rücksicht. Außerdem könnt Ihr in diesen Veranstaltungen eine Prüfung machen, müsst dies aber nicht, sondern könnt auch „nur“ Teilnahmen erwerben.

Alle Lehrveranstaltungen mit Inhaltsbeschreibungen sind im Vorlesungsverzeichnis aufgelistet. Hier findet Ihr aber Hintergrundinformationen zu den Gastprofessor*innen und Praktiker*innen, die im WiSe 2020/21 an der KSH München auf Englisch lehren. Viele kommen extra für die Veranstaltung angereist und wir vom International Office sind sehr stolz, solche spannenden und interessanten Lehrenden gewinnen zu können. Daher bitte auch immer die Veranstaltungen besuchen, das gebietet schon das Prinzip der Höflichkeit und Gastfreundschaft.

Und als erste Kostprobe sind nun alle weiteren Informationen auf Englisch aufgeführt.

Enjoy reading!

Euer International Office

Modul 4.1

Alexander Buck:

Wednesday 14:00 – 16:00

Fortress Europe

Digital seminar, will be changed into presence teaching if circumstances allow

This seminar will be in English for a mixed group of KSH and Erasmus students.

Content: Since the 19th century, Europe is a destination for migrants and refugees and especially Germany located in the middle of Europe. The pictures of thousands of refugees arriving in Germany in summer 2015 being well perceived were broadcasted all over the world. But the situation in Europe and Germany has changed: the so called “Welcome Culture” shifted to a rather populist and nationalistic attitude. Right-wing parties all over Europe try to establish a “Fortress Europe” by introducing restrictive laws, playing negative propaganda against migrants and refugees using racist paroles triggering confusion and fear among people. This seminar is analyzing the recent development of the mixed migration flow and its impact on Europe and explores the crucial role of Social Work professions addressing the needs of migrants and refugees.

Alexander Buck is the Head of the “Frans van der Lugt Project”, a shelter for asylum seekers in Munich, run by the Jesuit Refugee Service (JRS) Germany. He studied Social Work at KSH and received his Master degree in philosophy from the Jesuit “Hochschule für Philosophie”. For more than 25 years, he is a lecturer at the KSH in the fields of Social Work, Media Literacy and Education, Philosophy and Migration.

Modul 4.2

Veronika Rolle-Green:

Monday 14:00 - 16:00

Intercultural Communication

Digital seminar, will be changed into presence teaching if circumstances allow

This seminar will be in English for a mixed group of KSH and Erasmus students.

Content: This course is aiming at KSH students going abroad for one semester as well as at Erasmus incomings, studying at KSH. The course offers students ample opportunity to actively develop their personal intercultural competences as well as develop their understanding of its relevance for their future professional path. A highly interactive mix of small group work, role-plays, personal reflection, simulations and expert input will ensure intensive learning.

Topics covered will include: Culture shock and strategies to overcome challenges when integrating into a new cultural environment, awareness & perception as keys for intercultural understanding personal cultural influences: looking at personal life journeys and cultural influences, learning styles across cultures: understanding different expectations towards authority and knowledge transfer, effective intercultural communication and conflict resolution in an intercultural context.

Veronika Rolle-Green, of German origin, lived for years in China and France, her life spans 5 decades. There are two main threads in her life journey: one is her inspiration from Asian thinking, the other is her desire to facilitate dialog. Both started in her teenage years. What had begun as a childhood interest in oriental culture, history and philosophy, led to a first essay on the I Ching at the age of 19 and finally a Masters degree in Chinese Studies and Western History (1994, LMU Munich, Germany). These studies and years of life and work in China and extensive travels in Asia have become foundational to her professional activity. While working in Taiwan as an assistant to the Director of a logistics company in 1988, she handled all communication with the West and untangled misunderstandings in commercial relations, when she began to see the impact of global business on people. She later worked as interpreter for the German press department welcoming Chinese journalists. She still enjoys working regularly in Asia, where she delivers consultancy interventions and keeps herself up to date with the rapid economic and social changes. Looking for ways to truly support the people she worked with, the work of Martin Buber and the notion of dialog as prerequisite for true encounter became central to her approach. Early in her consulting career she completed several long-term training programs in social psychology, namely group dynamics and human interaction (DAGG / Germany and NTL / USA) (1996-2000). Later followed by a two-year training program as a Dialogue Process Facilitator (M.I.T. Boston & Adolf-Reichwein-Gesellschaft) (2001-2002). She also certified in MBTI (Kroeger Ass., Fairfax Virginia USA, 2002) and Roger's client-centered approach (Strathclyde Univ., Glasgow U.K., 2003).

Modul 4.2

Prof. Dr. Nicole Schmid:

Wednesday 16:00 – 18:00

Introduction to Global Health: Perspectives for Social Work Digital seminar, will be changed into presence teaching if circumstances allow

This seminar will be in English for a mixed group of KSH and Erasmus students.

Content: This course provides an introduction to global health with a focus on women's health in low- and middle-income countries (LMIC). Students will get to know different projects where health care professionals work jointly with professionals from other disciplines (including social work, anthropology, economics etc.) to improve the health of women and children. Project examples include programs around cervical cancer screening in Cameroun, antenatal care in Madagascar or family AIDS education in Kenya or the Dominican Republic. During the course, a specific focus will be given to the role of social work in addressing social determinants of health. By the end of the course, the students are able to describe health disparities and outline key actors and organizations in global health including the role of international social work.

Nicole Schmidt, Professor of Medicine at KSH München, is an obstetrician and gynecologist from Germany, with a master's degree in public health from the Harvard School of Public Health. She worked in maternal and child projects in Kenya, the Dominican Republic and in Bolivia. She is particularly interested how to improve access to sexual and reproductive health services for women globally. Her current international projects are based in the Northern Region of Cameroun and in the Northern part of Madagascar.

Modul 3.9

Petra Hilgers / Trupti Patel:

Thursday 10:00 – 12:00

Race, Power & Privilege in Social Work: using creativity to explore the dynamics of difference Digital seminar

This seminar will be in English for a mixed group of KSH and Erasmus students.

Content: This seminar will support participants on a personal journey, using creativity, dialogue and reflection to explore my own social conditioning, recognise where it creates barriers for connection, explore ways to deepen my understanding of others in order to create more meaningful relationships in my work.

By the end of the seminar we will have (a) deepened empathy for ourselves and others in dealing with the difficulties inherent in connecting across difference, (b) acknowledged the role we play in upholding systemic oppression, (c) developed greater sensitivity to barriers others experience due to systemic and historic power imbalances, (e) deepened our awareness of our own privileges and how they shape our lives, and (f) developed more confidence in addressing power imbalances in social work.

This seminar is interactive with space to reflect, learn and connect; it involves personal sharing to enable personal development and we expect students to be willing to engage with subjects that might be uncomfortable and be mindful of personal triggers. We will work with creative approaches including photography, drawing, body work, image based work and writing; we will also use discussion, group work and games to develop learning. We will draw on contemporary and historic research with recommended readings, videos and talks online. We will invite students to keep a journal for their own insights, thoughts and reflections.

Petra Hilgers / Trupti Patel:

Monday, 16.11.20: 16:00 - 20:00

Creative Facilitation: using photography to facilitate workshops with vulnerable groups

Tuesday, 17.11.20: 09:00 - 18:00

Wednesday, 18.11.20: 09:00 - 18:00

Digital seminar

This seminar will be in English for a mixed group of KSH and Erasmus students.

The course contains three specific themes: a) idea generation and creative processes and challenge based learning; b) social innovation in the welfare sector based on various activities and organizational forms; and c) emphasizing of terminology, concept formation and action strategies in social innovation.

After completing the course, the student should be able to:

1. identify and account for examples of social innovation in the welfare sector;
2. formulate and communicate own ideas and change work in the welfare sector;
3. give an account of the role of the Social profession based on theories of social innovation
4. analyze the relationship between individual and organizational development.

Teaching is conducted in form of lectures, seminars, group discussions, workshops and supervision

Petra Hilgers is a creative development practitioner with over 15 years of experience in the fields of community development, team & organisational change and personal development. Petra believes people have the power to make changes that are positive for them and is particularly interested in developing deep:black's work on understanding anger and shame. Originally from Germany, Petra has developed her skills in group facilitation, peace building, non-violent communication, the arts, mediation and conflict coaching working in countries and communities all over the world including Bosnia, South Africa, Uganda, Darfur/Sudan, Afghanistan and for the past 13 years in London. As well as running deep:black Petra currently works part-time with mental health charity YoungMinds as participation quality lead, and freelances for Leap Confronting Conflict and Diversity Role Models.

Trupti Magecha is an established photographer working on commissions and on participatory projects that enable exploring photography as a tool for self expression. Trupti has worked on PhotoVoice participatory photography projects and supported non-artists in creating photography portfolios and exhibitions. She is passionate about working enabling stories to be shared visually and has experience working sensitively to the needs of vulnerable groups. As an established film maker Trupti has made documentaries for the BBC and Channel Four including the BAFTA award winning series 'The Tower' based on the regeneration of a London council estate and the award winning series Secret Millionaire. Other issues she's covered include immigration, internet child pornography and race relations. Alongside deep:black, Trupti runs her own photography business Kush Digital.

Modul 1.3C

Prof. Dr. Carmen Lúcia Guimarães de Mattos: Monday 18:00 – 20:00

Digital seminar

Social Justice: unequal societies and the “new normal”

This seminar will be in English for a mixed group of KSH and Erasmus students.

Content: The worse sanitary crises that affected the world at recent times made social justice become more important than ever. Oppressive societies become more oppressive, re-emerged extreme ideologies, deepened the inequality among the disadvantaged. In this Scenario, social justice reflected in what is being called “new normal” is associated with the ethical dimension of using digital tools and its contents, communication, interaction and restriction. On the other hand, it opens space for new practices, changes of forms of living as human being, increase on demands for civil rights and for the value of big social issues, and individuals give less importance to small matters. Therefore, this seminar will focus on issues such as: structural racism, homophobia, domestic violence, children, girls and women’s rights, remote learning and educational inequalities, public security and police conduct, detainee’s treatment, freedom of expression, migrants and asylum seekers, gender identity within families etc.

The seminar leader is Carmen Lúcia Guimarães de Mattos, Professor of Education at the Universidade do Estado do Rio de Janeiro (UERJ) in Brazil. She gained her Ph.D. in Education from The University of Pennsylvania, USA. She has large experience teaching courses and developing research addressing socialization of violence focus on: culture of violence, political violence, legitimization of violence, criminalization of children and youths, digital violence, contexts of pornography and banalization of violence and violence against people without resistance such as children, women, and the native groups. She is interested in the study of how violence is socially constructed among youths and young children.

Modul 1.3C

Prof. Dr. Jonas Christensen:

Monday 10:00 – 12:00

Aging Society

Digital seminar, will be changed into presence teaching if circumstances allow

This seminar will be in English for a mixed group of KSH and Erasmus students.

Content: The course focuses on care work, dementia, and welfare technologies related to welfare models, ageing theories and ethical issues. The course presents critical perspectives from social sciences and the humanities. Comparative Cases from selected countries will be used. The course aims to provide students with relevant and updated knowledge as well as to deepen the students' understanding of ageing societies and care for the elderly people in a globalized world to understand and to interpret principal societal challenges and opportunities related to ageing and potential vulnerability in old age; to apply basic methods for analysing societal challenges related to ageing populations and to understand interdisciplinary theoretical perspectives on aging and to reflect on these. The teaching is conducted in the form of lectures, seminars, group discussions, workshops and supervision.

Prof. Dr. Jonas Christensen:

Thursday 08:00 – 10:00

Social Innovation

Digital seminar, will be changed into presence teaching if circumstances allow

This seminar will be in English for a mixed group of KSH and Erasmus students.

The course contains three specific themes: a) idea generation and creative processes and challenge based learning; b) social innovation in the welfare sector based on various activities and organizational forms; and c) emphasizing of terminology, concept formation and action strategies in social innovation. After completing the course, the student should be able to identify and account for examples of social innovation in the welfare sector; formulate and communicate own ideas and change work in the welfare sector; give an account of the role of the Social profession based on theories of social innovation, and analyze the relationship between individual and organizational development. Teaching is conducted in form of lectures, seminars, group discussions, workshops and supervision

The seminar leader is Jonas Christensen, Professor of Social Work esp. Organization at Malmö University with a Ph.D. in Education from Lund University/Sweden. In fall term 2021/22, he is a visiting scholar at KSH München. His main fields of expertise are Social sciences and Educational science; profession, organizational learning, internationalization in higher education, transnational learning and collaboration as well as social welfare esp ageing

Modul 1.3C

Koglek, Robert:

Thursday, 21.01.20: 16:00 - 20:00

Social Work in a diverse context

Friday, 22.01.20: 09:00 - 18:00

Saturday, 23.01.20: 09:00 - 18:00

Digital seminar

Content: The seminar focuses on the most commonly used social work theories in practice in the United Kingdom today, while exploring in more detail the ways in which the cultural background and the individual identity needs of the service user, such as ethnicity, are met.

Students will be expected to participate in role play and to contribute in group discussions around actual examples and cases. This seminar promises to deliver a set of readily useable skills.

Koglek, Robert:

Thursday, 03.12.20: 16:00 - 20:00

Social Work Practice Theories

Friday, 04.12.20: 09:00 - 18:00

Saturday, 05.12.20: 09:00 - 18:00

Digital seminar

Content: This seminar focuses on international social work and social work practice theories and methods in the United Kingdom. After defining the term we will look at different examples of international social work. The biggest part of this seminar will look at the social work practice in the United Kingdom and especially in England.

Students will be asked to make small group presentations (15-20 minutes presentation and brief written summary of social work practice in a foreign country) to complete the requirements for receiving the "Leistungsnachweis"

Robert Koglek is the Service Manager of the Hackney Children & Young People's Services Plus in London, providing confidential child-centred, clinical and treatment services for young people. He studied Social Work at KSH and is a Social Pedagogue and systemic Social Worker.

Modul 5.3C

Rossi, Alexia / Caruana, Julian:

Working with Traumatized Refugees and Asylum Seekers

Thursday, 14.01.21: 16:00 - 20:00

Friday, 15.01.21: 09:00 - 18:00

Saturday, 16.01.21: 09:00 - 18:00

Digital seminar, will be changed into presence teaching if circumstances allow

This seminar will be in English for a mixed group of KSH and Erasmus students.

Content: This course will allow students to re-visit the phenomenon of becoming a refugee through a presentation of the push factors in a number of countries of origin and of the treacherous journey forced migrants embark on in search of refuge. In light of the humanitarian crises the Mediterranean is recurrently facing, special attention will be dedicated to the Central Mediterranean route and to the harsh reception conditions asylum-seekers face upon arrival in Mediterranean countries such as Malta and Italy. This course will also introduce students to the construct of trauma and provide them with the opportunity to familiarize themselves with the root causes of traumatization in the refugee experience and how traumatic exposure may impact these individuals' lives. The second part of the course will involve the teaching of aptitudes and skills that would enable students to identify and respond effectively to traumatized refugees they may encounter in their work. In this regard, this course will cover several areas including the identification of signs of post-traumatic stress, appropriate referral to relevant services, acting within the limits of one's professional capacity as well as the management of the risk of harm in the case of traumatized individuals. Furthermore, skills enabling the formation of a positive helping relationship and the provision of basic emotional support will also be discussed and practiced. Ethical issues such as maintaining appropriate boundaries and upholding the client's confidentiality will also be taken in consideration.

Dr. Alexia Rossi graduated with a B.Psy (Hons) and a Master's Degree in Human Rights and Democratisation from the University of Malta and a Certificate in Global Mental Health, Trauma and Recovery from Harvard Medical School and obtained a PhD in Counselling Psychology from London Metropolitan University. She has worked in various fields including primary and secondary care and more specifically the fields of migrant mental health, paediatric oncology, substance abuse and child & adolescent mental health in both governmental and non-governmental settings both in Malta and the UK. Alexia is currently employed by the Jesuit Refugee Service, Malta, to offer psychological assessment and therapy to refugees and asylum seekers. She also is the coordinator of several psychosocial projects within the organisation. Alexia is Senior Visiting Lecturer with the University of Malta and is involved in providing training and consultation both locally and overseas, in the field of trauma and migrant mental health.

Dr. Julian Caruana graduated with a Doctorate in Counselling Psychology from London Metropolitan University, UK and has worked in various fields including primary and secondary care, migrant mental health, paediatric oncology, substance abuse and child & adolescent mental health both in Malta and the UK. Julian is currently the Psychosocial Team Coordinator at the Jesuit Refugee Service, Malta and is responsible for the provision of a range of psychosocial support services to refugees and asylum seekers. Julian is a senior visiting lecturer with the Department of Psychology at the University of Malta and has experience of providing training and consultation both locally and overseas, in the field of trauma and migrant mental health.

Modul 5.3C

Anne Brandt-Christensen / Michelle Mildwater: Thursday, 10.12.20: 16:00 - 20:00
Friday, 11.12.20: 09:00 - 18:00
Saturday, 12.12.20: 09:00 - 18:00
Social Work and Human Rights: Human Trafficking Presence seminar, will be changed into digital teaching if necessary

This seminar will be in English for a mixed group of KSH and Erasmus students.

Content: Social work's mission is to enable all people to develop their full potential, enrich their lives, and prevent dysfunction. As such, social workers are change agents in society and in the lives of the individuals, families and communities they serve. Therefore is it fundamental for social workers to be familiar with international human rights declarations and conventions as common standards of achievement for the global community. This fall winter term we will especially look into HUMAN TRAFFICKING as an expanding field of mandate for social workers. Trafficking in persons is a serious crime and a grave violation of human rights. Every year, thousands of men, women and children fall into the hands of traffickers, in their own countries and abroad. Almost every country in the world is affected by trafficking, whether as a country of origin, transit or destination for victims. Trafficking often occurs from less developed countries to more developed countries, where people are rendered vulnerable to trafficking by virtue of poverty, conflict or other conditions. It is very difficult to assess the real size of human trafficking because the crime takes place underground, and is often not identified or misidentified. However, a conservative estimate puts the number of victims at any one time at 2.5 million. We also know that it affects every region of the world and generates tens of billions of dollars in profits for criminals each year. Lectures will be entirely held in English. International experts are invited to lecture and share their expertise. Students are expected to actively comment.

Anne Brandt Christensen, a B.A. and M.A. holder in Law (University of Copenhagen), admitted to the Danish Bar, licensed to practice as Advocate, has worked in the anti-trafficking field since 2007, including for the Danish Red Cross, and is recognized as an expert in the field nationally as well as internationally. She has met and listens to hundreds of trafficked men and women, provided direct support, legal assistance and lobbied for rights of trafficked people and awareness about the realities of trafficking at public and political level. She was awarded the European Crime Prevention Award in December 2014 for work through the non-profit anti-trafficking NGO HopeNow which she chaired for eight years and nominated in 2016 by the Danish government as an expert for GRETA under the Council of Europe. For a decade, Anne Brandt Christensen has been teaching young people from all over the world about trafficking in a global context, sharing her in-depth knowledge of trafficking and protection of human rights, both in theory and practice.

Michelle Mildwater is director of the grass roots anti trafficking NGO HopeNow Copenhagen which she founded in 2007. She represents Denmark in Brussels twice a year at the EU civil society platform which combats Human trafficking, has a degree in teaching from London University and an eight training in different branches of psychotherapy including trauma therapy. HopeNow is one of four NGOs in Denmark with a mandate from the Danish Ministry of gender to find, establish, identify and provide services for trafficked people. With a focus mainly on West and East African trafficked persons, services have also been provided for South-American and Asian Victims of Trafficking. Supportive work was done with hundreds of trafficked women who were controlled and coerced by ju-ju by their traffickers, made vulnerable to trafficking due to accusations of witch craft against them in their country of origin. Since 2007, staff of HopeNow continued to learn by doing, putting practice into theory and theory into practice, endeavor to develop, innovative psycho social methods, which combine the use of cultural mediation and the active use of peer group workers in order to establish trust and empower clients, who often are suffering from multiple forms of trauma. A dynamic, non judgemental approach using narrative therapy and trauma therapy inspired by the work of Dr Peter Levine and Dr Diana Poole, with Michael White as the hall mark of approach.